Outflows to budget cause liquidity to decline

Interest payments on local currency bonds, while on the other hand, monthend tax payments and new government bond sales settlements caused liquidity to decline. In addition, the NBU provided to two banks a total of UAH800m in 14 day loans at an FX auction. As a result, banks' correspondent accounts with the NBU declined UAH1.23bn to UAH38.21bn and total CDs outstanding fell UAH0.44bn, caused banking sector liquidity to decline UAH1.67bn to UAH93.95bn.

Investment implications: As anticipated, the NBU yesterday decreased its key rate by 1pp to 18% and interest rates on CDs were cut by the same amount to 16% and 18% for ON and 14-day CDs, respectively. While CDs outstanding could increase today as a result of this cut, banks also could reallocate more liquidity into government bonds, pushing interest rates down slightly further.
