Liquidity up with support

Last Thursday, banking sector liquidity was up as the result of significant support by the NBU last Wednesday when it purchased US$30.7m of FX at the auction with UAH0.79bn of funds and issued UAH0.7bn in new one month loans. With these inflows, banking sector liquidity rose UAH2.26bn to UAH76.00bn as banks' correspondent accounts with the NBU increased UAH2.94bn and total CDs outstanding declined UAH0.68bn to UAH32.72bn.

Investment implications: The liquidity recovery was the result of significant inflows from the NBU and the usual absorption of funds from the NBU whereby it issued UAH1.5bn of new loans in tandem with the repayment of UAH0.8bn of 28-days loans issued in September. UAH0.34bn ON loans were also refinanced last Wednesday. While liquidity needs support to recover, this support is temporary at best. As a result, liquidity should slightly decline through the end of the month.
